Securities Lending Explained

If you hold securities, you can now lend* them out while waiting to sell at the right price. Our securities lending service acts as an avenue for you to earn a lending fee instead of letting your securities sit in your securities account. Such service potentially enhances the yield of your portfolio in a relatively low risk manner. Furthermore, lending your securities will not cause any disruption to trading activities as you can still sell your securities even though you have lent them**.

Rather than allowing your securities to sit in the securities account without generating any income, why not sign up to loan your securities and stretch their potential?

* Securities lending involves a transfer of title. If you wish to retain voting rights, the shares will have to be recalled.

** Securities will have to be sold using your trading account with Phillip Securities Pte Ltd ("Phillip Securities").

Key Benefits of Securities Lending

- Potentially Enhances Yield of Portfolio – Receive a lending fee (on a monthly basis) when your securities are loaned out
- No Minimum Lock-in Period – Lend your securities for any period that you are comfortable with
- No Disruption to Trading Activities - Sell any time even if your securities are loaned out
- Hassle-Free – All administrative work will be handled by Phillip Securities

Risks Involved in Securities Lending

- Counterparty Risk - However, this risk is mitigated in that a lender only looks to Phillip Securities, a reputable financial institution, as the borrower. Phillip Securities in turn requires the borrowing clients to provide collateral of at least 105% of the market value of the loan when it on-lends securities to them.
- Temporary Loss of Ownership Rights - In entering into the lending agreement, a lender will temporarily lose ownership rights to the securities. In its place, the lender has a right to claim for equivalent securities from Phillip Securities. Insofar as the lender receives manufactured dividends, he / she may be required to treat the entire amount received as income for tax purposes.

Mechanics of Securities Lending

How to be ready to lend?

Making your securities available for loan can be easily accomplished in two simple steps:

Step 1: Open a Securities Borrowing & Lending (SBL) account

Step 2: Custodise your securities with Phillip Securities

Note:

1. To make your existing securities that are custodised in your direct securities account with the Central Depository Pte Ltd (CDP) available for loan, you will need to transfer those securities from your direct securities account to your SBL account by submitting a “CDP 4.2 Request for Transfer of Securities” form.

2. To make your new purchases available for lending, simply inform your trading representative (TR) no later than 5pm on T+1 and the securities purchased will be credited to your SBL account on settlement day. Funds have to be received in your SBL account by 10 a.m. on contract due date to settle the purchase.
3. All securities custodied with or in possession of Phillip Securities (including in any other account you may have with Phillip Securities) will also be made eligible for on-lend.

How is the lending fee calculated?

Lending fee receivable is calculated on a daily basis and accrued on a monthly basis.

Daily lending fee is calculated by using:

$$\frac{\text{LDP} \times \text{Qty} \times \text{Lending Rate}}{365}$$

Where: LDP = Last Done Price (at closing)

This fee earned will be credited to your SBL account in the following month.

How will you know that your securities are lent?

You may check your lending position by logging into POEMS Online, in the SBL module at www.poems.com.sg, which sets out the securities lent, quantity as well as the lending rate secured. The lending rate will only be confirmed when the securities are lent out.
